Overview

How can overvoltage protection protect PV power plants from lightning strikes?

To avoid the destructive effects of lightning strikes, overvoltage protection must be installed at various locations throughout the PV facility. Raycap is committed to developing electrical protection solutions that eliminate downtime from lightning strikes and reduce stress to PV power plants caused by overvoltage.

Is raycap a good solution to a photovoltaic problem?

The system engineered by Raycap in conjunction with its electrical contractor for the Raycap PV facility in Drama is an example of a well-designed and executed solution to a problem that is of great importance to developers of photovoltaic power plants worldwide.

How many kilowatts does a PV inverter generate?

Two 800 kilowatt central inverters ensure effective, reliable power distribution to the grid. The plant is expected to generate 2 million kilowatt hours yearly, while also serving as Raycap's photovoltaic testing facility. Figure 1 illustrates the highly recommended locations for lightning protection at a PV inverter.

How many kilowatts can a solar power plant generate?

The state-of-the-art facility is equipped with 18,200 high-efficiency thin-film solar panels and is capable of generating 1.4 megawatt of power. Two 800 kilowatt central inverters ensure effective, reliable power distribution to the grid.

What is raycap's lightning protection solution for photovoltaic applications?

Raycap's lightning protection solution for photovoltaic applications are based on its unique Strikesorb® surge protection device (SPD) technology. Strikesorb SPDs provide safe, uninterrupted protection without requiring maintenance.
