What's going on with PV in 2023?

[SHI BUFA/FOR CHINA DAILY] Overcapacity, price concerns While PV development has yielded impressive results, concerns about fiercer competition and overcapacity loomed over 2023. Wang highlighted a continuous decline in PV module prices since February, with several companies' bidding prices per watt falling below 1 yuan beginning in October.

How has China's solar industry changed in 2023?

China's solar industry climbed to new heights in 2023, with manufacturing, installed capacity and exports experiencing robust growth and reshaping the global landscape with continuous technological breakthroughs.

Why are PV module prices falling?

Experts said the primary reason for the price decline is the imbalance in supply and demand, together with market expectations of a reduction in silicon material prices. In addition, large global inventory stockpiles make it challenging for module prices to rise. Under the low-price scenario, PV enterprises face considerable challenges.

What happened to the PV sector?

As of Dec 18, the total market value of the PV sector shrunk by nearly 1.2 trillion yuan. The largest PV exchange traded fund, Huatai-PineBridge CSI Photovoltaic Industry ETF, plummeted by over 40 percent, and nearly 30 stocks in the sector had seen declines exceeding 40 percent.

Are Topcon solar cells overcapacity dragging down prices?

TOPCon solar cells can be manufactured as N-type or P-type solar cells. Another PV giant, Trina Solar, whose major products are TOPCon solar cells, also achieved a doubling of profit in the first three quarters to over 5 billion yuan. It seems that although overcapacity is dragging down prices, profits for leading companies are still on the ascent.
