Boston lithium battery manufacturer

Overview

SES, a manufacturer of lithium-metal rechargeable batteries for electric vehicles, was founded at MIT in 2012. Where are lithium-ion batteries made?

Currently, nearly all lithium-ion batteries in the world are manufactured in Asia. The Commonwealth will offer up to $9 million in matching financing to support the company's planned manufacturing operation in Auburn. Boston-Power selected the Auburn site based on proximity to its headquarters.

Who owns pure lithium?

The company is led by CEO Emilie Bodoïn and Chief Science Officer Donald R. Sadoway, an Emeritus Professor from MIT. Through its proprietary Brine to Battery™ technology, Pure Lithium produces lithium metal anodes directly from brine sources, eliminating dependence on materials like graphite, nickel, cobalt, and manganese.

Who makes a solid-state battery?

Factorial Energy manufactures solid-state batteries that allow electric vehicles to drive 50 percent longer than conventional lithium-ion batteries, according to the company. The Woburn-based company launched from stealth last year and has raised $240 million, including a $200 million Series D in January.

What makes boson a leader in lithium-ion battery technology?

Focused on certification and mass production, ensuring compliance with global quality and safety standards while ramping up large-scale production. Aiming to achieve a 10GWh manufacturing capacity, solidifying Boson's position as a leader in high-performance lithium-ion battery technology.

Where is the world's most advanced battery manufacturing facility located?

Boston-Power, Inc. announced that the company is working to build what it describes as one of the world's most advanced battery manufacturing facilities in Auburn, Massachusetts.

Could Boston-area battery companies power electric cars and smart grids?

Formed out of research at MIT, Worcester Polytechnic Institute and other nearby research institutions, these companies are developing technology that could power electric vehicles and smart grids of the future. Venture capital firms are betting big on Boston-area battery companies, too.
