Overview

What are uninterruptible power systems (UPS)?

Always, also, without prejudice to the technical teams or the patients. Uninterruptible Power Systems (UPS) are a device thanks to which the power supply can be maintained even when abnormal situations occur.

Why do hospitals need uninterruptible power supplies?

Therefore, hospital organizations also have data centers that must be protected with uninterruptible power supplies under any circumstance. First of all, these electrical devices are a prevention system. The best remedy for any unforeseen, especially in the field of health, is to be prepared.

Does etkho have emergency power supply systems?

At ETKHO we have emergency power supply systems that, in the event of failure of the main power system, begin to work automatically in less than 0.5 seconds, thus avoiding any collateral damage, especially for the safety of patients in hospital centers. What are UPSs for?

Critical and complex situations are experienced daily in hospitals.

What is an uninterruptible emergency power supply?

An uninterruptible emergency power supply is an emergency power supply that can supply power without interruption (a power supply that ensures continuity of AC power) even if the commercial power supply is stopped.

Why do hospitals need a power supply?

Ensure your equipment is readily available – especially in an emergency – with clean, uninterrupted power. Hospitals and healthcare providers strive to diagnose patients' conditions quickly and effectively, often deploying critical equipment that requires a stable and uninterrupted power source.

Do health centers have uninterrupted power systems?

In short, from ETKHO we recommend without any doubt that every health center or hospital has uninterrupted power systems that guarantee its work in any of its areas, especially in critical hospital areas, and in any type of circumstance, even in the most critical. Always, also, without prejudice to the technical teams or the patients.
